

Come to the Water and Come to the Tree
IRREGULAR

Come to the water and come to the tree,
Come to the truth which makes you free,
For this is the water, the water of life,
And these are the leaves which do heal all strife.
“And the Spirit and the Bride say ‘Come’.”

All who have ears, and all who have eyes,
Use well your talents, discerning and wise.
Help those who can't hear or will not perceive,
To open their hearts that they may believe.
“And let them who hear say ‘Come’.”

If you are hungry and thirsty for right,
If you have wakened to live in the Light,
Then take of the leaves and drink of the stream,
Let them nurture you and dispel death's dream.
“And let all who are thirsty come.”

Buy without money and purchase for free
Life of the water and peace of the tree.
And as you receive, you freely must give
To all who come after, that they may live.
“And let them take of the water of Life freely.”

“And the Spirit and the Bride say ‘Come’.
And let them who hear say, ‘Come’.
And let all who are thirsty come.
And let them take of the water of Life freely.”
